

Hello!! Room Service?

(Bell rings)

Please come in.

Your sandwich is here.

My wife is trapped inside the bedroom. The lock is jammed.

Do you have a master key to open the door?

Excuse me Ma'am? Are you alright in there?

Yes, I am perfectly fine.

Your husband says you're having trouble with the lock?

He is mistaken. The lock is working fine.

She is joking. Just open the door.

Ma'am, you're saying that you've locked yourself inside on purpose?

Yes. Now place my sandwich near the door and step away please.

Ma'am... Are you in any danger?

What? No she's not!

Ma'am, if you're afraid to speak in front of your husband, knock twice.

What difference does that make! I am standing right here!

Afraid of him? He's a coward who refuses to take responsibility.

Sir if she doesn't want me to open the door, I cannot force my way inside.

Look, my wife has got some news that's making her very anxious. I'm scared she could have a panic attack.

I just need you to quietly unlock it without her knowing. Please.

He's gone. You can come out and take your sandwich.

I don't trust you. You probably finished the fries anyway.

No, I haven't.

You lied. He's still here.

No, he is not there.

Stop. I am not wearing any clothes.

She is lying.

Could you put your clothes back on?

No, I'm afraid not.

Shweta, you've taken this too far!

I don't want to come out, Purab. Look at me, most women would be happy about this news and I have thrown a tantrum like a 4 year old.

What news?

She is pregnant. We just found out.

I am going to be a horrible mother.

Are you crazy? Our lives are going to change dramatically. But, you are going to be a terrific mother. That child is going to be loved so much. Don't you agree?

You are asking me?

Sir, I have not even met your wife. I am not qualified to make such an assessment and she's not behaving in a very motherly manner right now.

You don't know what you're talking about. She is a wonderful woman and she is going to be the best mother ever.

Purab, I know you are worried about being a good parent. Everybody worries.

I know. But we were never prepared for something like this. When we got married, we had decided not to have kids. We will travel the whole world instead.

And now we will be the oddest couple.

That's true!

And do you know how much diapers cost these days? And school fees? Plan for our trip to Italy next year, is definitely off now.

Don't be silly, Purab, all of that can be managed. We have saved up enough to add one more adventure!

See, that's why I love you. You are always prepared. I, on the other hand

There is so much that you could teach our child. About traveling, history and different cultures and photography! You'll make it the most beautifully shot baby on Instagram!

But what does Instagram have to do with being a parent?

That's it. Who are you? Why are you giving us parenting advice? Are you a woman?

He was trying to get you out.

Yes. I was trying to do exactly that.

Now that I am out, could you please leave?

Remember our first international trip together?

Cambodia.

We had our air tickets and nothing else.

Just remember, next time you will have to add one more ticket!

Get out.

So Vinay, in a situation like that will you actually eat your wife's fries?

I would have ordered atleast 5 more cakes and all the desserts and eaten it myself.

On a serious note, I do sympathize with the character. I remember, when I had to deal with a news like that, when I was quite young and it's very overwhelming.

I can imagine what the feeling would be for a couple in their mid-40s.

Life does take different trajectories, we plan for something and life completely moves in completely different direction. One should plan for the unplanned.

That's true. The couple had the confidence to have the child even though it was a late pregnancy and that's mainly because of all the planning that they had done..

Planning is key, in the film they were all talking about how their whole life will change, how their social life will change when a child comes into their life. They didn't talk about money, they probably had that planned. Let money be the least of your worries.
